YA#	Description:
2003/122 #1	U.S. Army convoy on Alaska Highway 1942. Bob Hayes is driving the first truck in this convoy. This is the first diesel truck he saw in the Yukon. The trucks were meant for desert conditions with a single wheel base. Hayes worked for Butler & Hawkins, Edmonton Alberta, convoying the US Army equipment up the Alaska Highway. Sometimes he only went as far as Fort Nelson, but he made it to Suicide Hill, Watson Lake and Whitehorse. On back of photo "Bob Hayes Convoy on Alaska Highway 1943". - 1942 (1943).
2003/122 #2	US Army truck in the ditch. The trucks weren't made for snowy conditions. The driver went into the ditch when he hit the brakes.
2003/122 #3	Damaged US Army convoy truck. The load was too high for the covered bridge which tore off the load. - 1948.
2003/122 #4	BYN Freight Lines meat truck moving frozen meat from Dawson Creek to Whitehorse. I [Hayes] had a breakdown while driving and was out on the road all night waiting for a replacement. It was so quiet you could hear the telephone wires sing. The snowy and icy covered gravel would wear out the tires so carrying spare tires was a necessity. - 1949.
2003/122 #5	BYN Freight Lines truck at Haines Junction on Alaska Highway. First Nations young man with small child on dog-pulled child's wagon because there was no snow for a regular dog sled. - 1948.
2003/122 #6	BYN Freight Lines meat truck at Haines Junction, Yukon.
2003/122 #7	Eddie [Edna] and daughter Karen by BYN Freight Lines meat truck on the road to Haines Junction or Burwash Landing.
2003/122 #8	Driving BYN bus from Whitehorse to Dawson Creek. Bob, bus driver. Some of the gravel road on the Alaska Highway. - 1949.
2003/122 #9	BYN Bus at Fort Nelson Hotel on Alaska Highway. [Group of people in front of bus] - 1949.
2003/122 #10	Bob and Karen in front of their BYN house at Whiskey Flats.
2003/122 #11	Bob and Karen [in carriage] and neighbours Don & Muriel MacPhail's child on Bob's back in front of their BYN house at Whiskey Flats.
2003/122 #12	Eddie [Edna] and Karen in front of their BYN house at Whiskey Flats. - 1949.
2003/122 #13	Eddie [Edna] and Karen in their second house off 3rd Avenue leased from Mr. Appleby of Watson Lake who had built the house. Back of the house.
2003/122 #14	Eddie [Edna] and Karen in their second house off 3rd Avenue leased from Mr. Appleby of Watson Lake who had built the house. Front of the house.
