92/52 #98		Sept., 1938. Phil Collins, Jack McKenzie trappers. We tied up each night because of fog. Built a fire on the beach, quoted Robert Service far into the night. - Sep. 1938.
92/52 #99		Sept. 1938. On the river boat Klondike. Refueling. Ashley Shatford on wheelbarrow. We went bear hunting. No luck. - Sep. 1938.
92/52 #100		Sept., 1938. On the river boat Klondike. Winter cord wood stacked at Selkirk. Just centre section showing. - Sep. 1938.
92/52 #101		Sept., 1938. Selkirk - got off for a walk. - Sep. 1938.
92/52 #102		Sept., 1938. Ruby outside Phil's cabin at Stewart. - Sep. 1938.
92/52 #103
92/52 #104		Sept., 1938. Mr. and Mrs. Phil Farris cabin, about 19 miles south of Dawson. - Sep. 1938.
92/52 #105		Sept., 1938. Back view of Bank of Commerce and the Firehall, with the fire chief's boat in the foreground. - Sep.
92/52 #106		Sept., 1938. Dawson, Y.T. Cabins supposed to be remains of Fort Renown about twelve miles down river from Dawson. Another trip on the twin's paddlewheeler. - Sep. 1938.
92/52 #107		We go for a trip down river. Miniature paddle wheel boat built by Tom and Charlie Rendall, twins born in Dawson. Merve Warrick (teacher) taking photo.
92/52 #108		We go for a trip down river. Midstream, going north towards hospital which is shown on extreme left.
92/52 #109		We go for a trip down river. Merv Warrick, Tom Rendall, Amanda Burian, later married to Charlie Rendall on deck of "Julia B", wreck in old shipyard.
92/52 #110		Farewell to the last connecting link with home. Transmission house and Dawson - Granville road, plus bit of camp scenery from Johnny's domicile.

92/52 #112		John Gunn - Bear Creek engineer returning to U.B.C. - Oct., 1938.
92/52 #113		We hike to Swede Creek. South portion of Dawson and mouth of Klondike River from top of Sonnydale Bluff
92/52 #114		We hike to Swede Creek. Looking to the north part of town from the same place, with the Dome behind the city.
92/52 #115		We hike to Swede Creek. The gang overlooking the lovely valley. Fraser McNaughton (Bank of Montreal clerk), Vivien Vickery, now Eccles (teacher), Merve Warrick (teacher), Stan Glaspie (Bank of Commerce clerk), and Antoinette (Tony) Hobbis, soon to be a Yukon queen.
92/52 #116		We hike to Swede Creek. Tony calling attention to the admirable view
92/52 #117		We hike to Swede Creek. Outside the Farr boys' domicile. We did not enter as it was a renovated pig pen. Sniffle, not odor [arrow pointing to women with handkerchief]. Stan is in a typical attitude
92/52 #118		We hike to Swede Creek. This is on the bank of the Yukon River near the mouth of Swede Creek. Correction. This is the pig pen with Hotch hurrying to investigate. The other is the Farr Sr. cabin, 2 m. up the creek, and very nice.
92/52 #119		We hike to Swede Creek. Heading for the ferry to cross to Dawson very weary but happy after a glorious day. Thank you Mr. Hatchings. The ferry is wound by hand across on a large overhead cable. The wheel does the winding. The force of the current on the angled side of the ferry propels the ferry across the river.
92/52 #120		Time Pictures taken in Room 12 (Vivien's room) Yukonia Hotel, Christmas Eve, showing the tree which Philip put, decorated in my room as a surprise. I wish the lovely decorations of the whole room were shown. Xmas 1938 and New Year's 1939. The tree was donated by Mac McKenzie, owner of the one and only theatre. All my gifts are arranged about it.

92/52 #122		Time Pictures taken in Room 12 (Vivien's room) Yukonia Hotel, Christmas Eve, showing the tree which Philip put, decorated in my room as a surprise. I wish the lovely decorations of the whole room were shown. [Xmas 1938 continued] How I dressed to go to the New Year's Eve dance at 30 degrees below. All that's missing is my fur coat, with my slippers in the pockets. The black around my knees is a portion of my long wool tights. - Dec. 1938.
92/52 #123		(The Great Fire, March 16th, 1939, 6:00 pm, 10 degrees below.) The aftermath. Next day showing everyone's possessions out in the street - from hotel, theatre, Apple Jimmy's and the beauty parlour. - March 1939.
92/52 #124		(The Great Fire, March 16th, 1939, 6:00 pm.) Looking from the hotel across the jumble to the White Pass freight sheds. People trying to find their possessions. Doctor Neff, dentist, is seen in foreground wearing cap.
92/52 #125		(The Great Fire, March 16th, 1939, 6:00 pm.) Taken from King Street, showing the ice sheathed M&N bar in which the fire started. It has been closed for years.
92/52 #126		(The Great Fire, March 16th, 1939, 6:00 pm.) [Same as #124 but showing another angle]

YA#	Orig. #	Description:
92/52 #128		We hike to Moosehide. Moosehide is about four miles north from Dawson by land trail, about two miles by river trail on the ice. "We" were Philip, Molly, Hough, Elizabeth Henderson, Gordon Brown and V.V.V. Church at Moosehide. Very interesting and picturesque, as it has all the texts and inscriptions in the Indian language. - April 1939.
92/52 #129		We hike to Moosehide. Looking from the back window (kitchen) in the rectory at the reservation homes. Moosehide is the Indian reservation. - April 1939.
92/52 #130		We hike to Moosehide. Molly Hough, Elizabeth Henderson and Gordon Brown on the porch of the Moosehide rectory - April 1939.
92/52 #131		We hike to Moosehide. Peter - son of Reverend and Mrs. Leslie Chappell - April 1939.
92/52 #132		Slants and Angles. What keeps them up? Two old hotels on the south end of Front Street. A more weird collection of junk, I defy anyone to find in two stores.
92/52 #133		Slants and Angles. What is it - greenhouse turned residence or residence turned greenhouse? Taken in the north end of town.
92/52 #134		Slants and Angles. South end of Front St. near the church in summer
92/52 #135		The Dawson Fire brigade, 1939. We are amateur printers as yet, hence C.&C. Fifth Street is in the background, showing the McKinley and Roman greenhouses and shop - 1939.
92/52 #136		Philip Eccles in the doorway of the N.C. store, wearing the fire helmet brought back from Fairbanks by the Dawson curling team as a souvenir. Again pardon the C.7.7.
92/52 #137		1939. How the wood is brought into Dawson. The obliging cat driver stopped on Church Street while we took this. A fifth sleigh had just been unhooked at the corner. - 1939.

92/52 #138		How the wood goes out. These sawyers travel from place to place, cutting the 16 ft logs into stove lengths with their little gas saw. In front of the Bank of Commerce. Won't the boys be warm! Gerston's laundry (the tall one) and Ed Rickards store is in the background.
92/52 #139		[The sawyer's horse, Dawson] Oh, so patient
92/52 #140		In the winter, the garbage is dumped on the ice, to be carried out with the spring breakup to Circle City and points north
92/52 #141		St. Paul's Church and rectory, Church St., Dawson
92/52 #142		More odds 'n ends: water truck, Dawson
92/52 #143		School Days. The school playground swing
92/52 #144		School Days.[Vivien Vickery at teacher's desk next to piano.] Meditation on the face and "meditation" on the piano. Dawson School, 1938 - 1938.
92/52 #145		School Days. The children struggle with the snow shovel in an attempt to make a skating rink. A dismal failure due to opening of public rink.
92/52 #146		Personalities. Molly Hough imported from Australia, stenographer in the Bear Creek office. Violinist. Quite hopeless. One redeeming feature is a swell mother.
92/52 #147		Personalities. Mrs. Jack Seely, former Emma Allen, secretary in the Yukon Consolidated Gold Company's Office. This pictures Saturday afternoon house-cleaning Third Street
92/52 #148		Personalities. Tony Hobbis (Victorian reformed), Dawson royal representative at Fairbanks. Carnival Queen for 1938-1939. Ain't she sweet? We think so
92/52 #149		Personalities. Cliff McGillivray, assistant projectionist to Duncan McKenzie, manager of Orpheum Theatre, in the doorway of which Cliff here stands

YA#	Orig. #	Description:
92/52 #150		Just snaps. Fraser and Ina. A Sunday afternoon amble in June up the A.C. trail to the bench. Expression and attitude are due to Mosquito pestilence. Fraser works in the Bank of Montreal a Victorian wise enough to get out. Ina Pervis is a nurse in St. Mary's hospital - another Victorian with sense: Ina Pervis is now engaged to the guy McNaughton. Maybe that accounts for the expression.
92/52 #151		Just snaps. Buzzy Daily in the outfit brought to him from Scotland by Kenny McCrae. Danny Bird, not to be outdone, dolls up too, and they pose by the Summerton house. Aren't they cute.
92/52 #152		More hikes: three different hikes. On this one, Phil went skiing alone. Looking up to the top of the Dome across farm from A.C. trail
92/52 #153		More hikes: another hike. [Outdoor shot of Phil Eccles in winter clothing.] No beauty, I'll admit, but he says he's warm. A.C. trail - 1938.
92/52 #154		The hike continues: passing Louse Town on the river
92/52 #155		We still hike: the Klondike ice-bound. The snow lies thickly on the farm fields above Dawson
92/52 #156		We still hike: the Dome watches over Dawson City. The school stands out clears. 2 copies
92/52 #157		Complete with arhka [sic], loaned for the occasion by ___. I never found use for one. Vivien Vickery
92/52 #158		Easter Sunday services: on the steps of the Rectory after morning services. Stage properties [2 stuffed animals] to go with the hat. Hugh, son of Rev. and Mrs. A.C. McCullum, looks on in amusement.
92/52 #159		Funeral for old Yukoner Sam McCormick (spelling?). [Man on the left unidentified, man on the right is] Ernie Pentecost, married Helen Mills (Yukon Queen one year), the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Mills. - ca. 1938.
