		- Typed mimeographed year in review letter with accompanying handwritten letter to the Wilkinsons from physicists Jean and Hal Bennett of China Lake, California. Among their many adventures, they write about a trip they took by plane from Vancouver, through British Columbia and Yukon, to Alaska. They followed the Alcan Highway from Fort St. John to Whitehorse, with a detour over the Liard River Canyon, and refueling in Watson Lake. They camped with their plane by the airport in Whitehorse. In Dawson, they drove from the airport into town with Chester Henderson, drove up Bonanza and Hunker Creeks, and panned for gold at No. 6 above Discovery Claim. In the accompanying letter, they write about trying to mail hominy to the Wilkinsons, enclosing their travel story, the possibility of future adventures in the Yukon, inviting the Wilkinsons to California, and thanking the Wilkinsons for their hospitality. Dec 1969. - Story titled "500 Miles on Canadian Wilderness Waters" by Jean Bennett. Recounted is her and her husband Hal's three-week kayak trip down the Macmillan River. Mechanical Engineer Vern Coats, another employee at the Naval Weapons Centre in China Lake, accompanied them. Alan Innes-Taylor had suggested the trip. She mentions the troubles and pleasures experienced, the area around the Canol Road bridge, campsites, cooking, landscape and scenery, weather, wildlife (moose, caribou, grizzly bears, eagles?, geese, loons, ducks, wolves, beavers), encountering rapids, filming home movies, collecting marcasite, boat repairs, gathering currants, exploring Russell Landing, meeting trappers Jared and Eddie Wilkinson on the river and their father J.C. Wilkinson at their camp, stopping at Pelly Crossing, stopping at the Bradley's Pelly Farm, visiting Abbie and Danny Roberts at Fort Selkirk, visiting the Burian family at Stewart River, and ending in Dawson. 1969. 5 pages. - Daily log titled "500 Miles on Canadian Wilderness Waters: South Macmillan, Pelly and Yukon Rivers (to Dawson City, Yukon)" by Hal and Jean Bennett and Vern Coats. A day-by-day recount of their trip. 9-30 Aug 1969. 8 pages. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Aug 9: Two-hour flight from Whitehorse by chartered Great Northern Airlines Beaver float plane.
