CARCROSS COMMUNITY EDUCATION CENTRE

#79/63

OUTSIDE DATES 1903, 1916-1918, 1930-1939, 1962-1979

DESCRIPTION:

The Carcross Community Education Centre records consist of the papers, photographs, maps, sound recordings, film, imprint and posters generated or collected by the Carcross Community Education Centre. The Centre was established in 1972 as an experiment in alternate education and community living, sponsored by the Anglican Diocese of Yukon. Bishop John Frame proposed to use the abandoned premises of the old Choooutla Indian Residential School near Carcross to establish a community to meet the needs of young people, both educationally and personally. The Community School operated until June of 1979 when falling numbers of parent and student member applications, and the continuing physical deterioration of the buildings and physical plant, led to the closure of the Centre.

The records, consisting of seven parts, have been organized into five series and are described in detail in a separate Finding Aid. The seven parts are briefly described below:

Pt. 1 PAPERS

Papers, consisting of reports, minutes, notes, correspondence, student work, financial records, etc. and separated into the following broad subject categories: general history and philosophy, management structure, applications committee and applications, education, engineering, agriculture and public relations and fundraising.

Pt. 2 PHOTOGRAPHS

Over 440 slides and prints, and 35mm negatives organized into a file of Margaret Marsh's slides, a file of slides used for a 1974 Public Relations program, another file of slides arranged chronologically between 1974 and 1978; a set of prints arranged by subject, and a file of 35mm slides.

Cowaret Films # 1,2,3

16 mm motion picture, n.d. Films taken by Mrs. Cowaret, colour and Black and white, silent, 59 min 10 sec.

Three films taken by Mrs Cowaret mostly around the Fort Selkirk area show short bits of footage of various scenes depicting Yukon lifestyles, transportation modes, religious ceremonies, activities, etc. The camera tends to jump around proving to be quite distracting, however there are some interesting shots of Fort Selkirk residents, sternwheelers and dog teams especially.

Archives has 3 original 16 mm films designated for storage, 1 16 mm viewing copy and internegative, 1 1/2" VHS master designated for storage, 1 VHS viewing copy, 1 VHS and 1 Beta circulating copy. Mrs. Cowaret's three original films from which the viewing copy and internegative were made are kept in the Archives vault for storage for the Anglican Church, Yukon Diocese.
