

Inter-jurisdictional Employees 2016

Highlights:

- In 2016, 2,155 non-Yukon residents received a total of $67.4 million in employment income from Yukon.
- Yukon's Accommodation and food services industry employed the highest number of non-Yukon residents at 360 in 2016.

About inter-jurisdictional employees

- Inter-jurisdictional employees are individuals who maintained a permanent residence in one province or territory during the year as indicated on their T1 tax return, while reporting earnings from a different province or territory during the year as indicated on a T4 Statement of Remuneration. Incorporated self-employed individuals may be included, but only if they issue themselves a T4 slip.
- Only Canadian employees aged 18 or older who earned more than $1,000 (in 2016 constant dollars) are included.
- Inter-jurisdictional employees incoming (to Yukon) are individuals who received T4 earnings from Yukon but reported a different province or territory of residence on their T1 tax returns; inter-jurisdictional employees outgoing (from Yukon) are individuals who identified as residing in Yukon but received T4 earnings from other provinces/territories; and resident employees both resided in Yukon and received all T4 earnings from Yukon during the reference year.
- Estimates in this report are derived from the T1 and T4 tax files and exclude late and re-assessed taxfilers. Data for the 2016 tax year is the most recent available.
- Inter-jurisdictional employment may represent a significant source of income for home provinces or territories of inter-jurisdictional employees, and a significant source of labour for the provinces or territories in which they work.

- In 2016, 2,155 non-Yukon residents received employment income from Yukon, while 1,475 Yukon residents received employment income from other provinces or territories. A total of 18,090 employees resided in Yukon and received all their employment income from Yukon.
- Non-Yukon residents received a total of $67.4 million in employment income from Yukon in 2016; $35.3 million was received by Yukon residents with part or all of their employment income from other provinces or territories; and $979.4 million was received by employees who resided in Yukon and received all their employment income from Yukon.

Number of Inter-jurisdictional Employees,
2007 to 2016

- Over the 10-year period from 2007 to 2016, on average per year, 2,477 non-Yukon residents received employment income from Yukon as opposed to 1,584 Yukon residents who received employment income from other jurisdictions.
- Comparing the most recent five-year average (2012 to 2016) to the previous five-year average (2007 to 2011), non-Yukon residents receiving employment income from Yukon decreased by 52, or 2.1%, while Yukon residents receiving employment income from other provinces or territories decreased by 72, or 4.4%.

Note: Due to the mobile nature of their work, inter-jurisdictional employees may be more likely to file annual personal income tax returns late. For example: in 2016, a forecasted 180 additional employees incoming to Yukon would have been included if late and re-assessed taxfilers were included; and an additional 160 outgoing employees from Yukon would have been included. Of interest, an estimated 1,255 Yukon resident employees were not included due to late filing. Estimates are subject to revision.

- In 2016, 2,155 employees who worked in Yukon, reported residency elsewhere in Canada on their income tax return. Comparing 2016 to 2015, there were the same number of non-Yukon resident employees working in Yukon (2,155 employees).
- A total of 1,475 Yukon residents received all or a part of their employment earnings from outside of Yukon during 2016. Compared to 2015 (1,615 employees), 140 fewer Yukon residents worked in a different province or territory in 2016.
- A total of 18,090 Yukon residents received all employment earnings from Yukon in 2016. This was an increase of 455, or 2.6%, compared to 2015 when 17,635 Yukon residents received all employment income from Yukon.
- In 2016, 1,370 male employees (63.7%) and 780 female employees (36.3%) made up the total of 2,155 employees who worked in Yukon, but reported residency elsewhere in Canada. Of the 1,475 Yukon residents who received all or part of their employment income from outside of Yukon, 850 were males (57.6%) and 625 (42.4%) were female.

- Of all other provinces or territories over the 10-year period from 2007 to 2016, residents of British Columbia comprised the highest number of non-resident employees working in Yukon, ranging from a low of 895 employees in 2007 to a high of 1,630 employees in 2011.
- In 2016, residents of British Columbia working in Yukon (985), made up almost half (45.7%) of the total number of non-Yukon resident employees in Yukon; followed by residents of Alberta (365 employees, or 16.9%).

- British Columbia has also consistently been the destination for Yukon residents who had employment income from work outside of Yukon over the past ten years, ranging from a low of 595 employees in 2013 to a high of 715 employees in 2011.
- In 2016, 44.4% (655 employees) of the Yukon residents with employment income from elsewhere, worked in British Columbia, followed by Alberta (19.3%, 285 employees) and the Northwest Territories (12.9%, 190 employees).

Net Inter-jurisdictional Employees,
(Incoming to Yukon less Outgoing from Yukon),
Selected Provinces/Territories,
2007 to 2016

- When considering net inter-jurisdictional employee movement (the difference between incoming non-resident employees in Yukon and outgoing Yukon residents who worked elsewhere), British Columbia residents working in Yukon comprised the highest net number of inter-jurisdictional employees to Yukon over the last ten years, with the exception of 2007. Conversely, over the same period, the Northwest Territories had been the jurisdiction that received the highest net number of inter-jurisdictional employees from Yukon.

- In 2016, non-resident employees' earnings in Yukon totalled $67.4 million. This accounts for 64.9% of their employment earnings (inside and outside of Yukon), and represents 6.3% of the total employment earnings in Yukon ($1.1 billion) in 2016.
- Earnings of non-resident employees in Yukon, ranged from a low of $48.4 million in 2008 to a high of $116.2 million in 2012, a difference of $67.8 million.
- Over the past ten years (2007 to 2016), an average of 7.7% of the total employment earnings in Yukon was received by non-residents, and ranged from a low of 5.3% in 2008 to a high of 10.6% in 2012.
- Of the total employment earnings (inside and outside of Yukon) of incoming inter-jurisdictional employees over the past ten years, an average of 65.4% was earned in Yukon.

- In 2016, Yukon residents earned $35.3 million in employment income from outside of Yukon in addition to $27.2 million from Yukon.
- Yukon resident employees' earnings from outside of Yukon in 2016 ($35.2 million), represented 56.4% of their total employment income in 2016 ($62.5 million). This ratio varied over the last 10 years, ranging from a low of 55.3% in 2010 to a high of 62.2% in 2008.
- From 2007 to 2016, total employment earnings of Yukon residents who only worked in Yukon, ranged from a low of $779.6 million in 2007 to a high of $979.4 million in 2016.
- The per-capita employment earnings of Yukon residents who worked only in Yukon grew between 2007 and 2008 at 4.3%. The growth flattened during the period from 2009 to 2016 when the annual average growth rate was only 0.2%.

- In 2016, non-residents' earnings in Yukon were $32.2 million higher than Yukon residents' earnings outside of Yukon. This difference was mainly attributable to the combined earnings in the Mining and quarrying (excluding oil and gas) and the Oil and gas extraction, Support activities for mining, and oil and gas extraction industries in Yukon which were $17.8 million higher for non-residents than that of Yukon residents' earnings from outside in the same industries.
