PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S SEVEN-POINT PROGRAM TO CURB INFLATION.

On Monday President Roosevelt presented to Congress his seven-point program of economic control which included heavy taxation, general rationing of all scarce commodities and stabilization of wages. In it he proposes to limit all individual incomes to $25,000 a year after payment of taxes.

The seven points can be summarized as follows:

- 1.—Heavier taxation—for which legislation is required.
- 2.—Ceilings on prices for consumers, retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers, together with rent ceilings in areas affected by war industries.
- 3.—Stabilized remuneration for individuals for their work—This is to be accomplished by orders from the War Labor Board.
- 4.—Stabilized prices for growers for products of their land—Mr. Roosevelt asks further legislation to halt upward trends based on the complex "parity" formula which would raise food costs.
- 5.—Greater savings through purchases of war bonds.
- 6.—Rationing of essential commodities of which there is a scarcity.
- 7.—Credit is to be discouraged, particularly instalment buying, and paying off of all debts and mortgages to be encouraged.

Only two points require legislation, says the President. The others will be implemented by his own executive orders.

His program differs from Canada in respect to the proposed stabilization of remuneration—a point which will arouse some criticism on the right.

The President rejects the thesis that repeal of the 40-hour week law, which requires payment of time and a half for overtime, is necessary, because this would cut the workers' pay envelope.

On the promise of organized labor to surrender the right to strike during the war, Mr. Roosevelt has assigned to his War Labor Board the task of keeping wages under control. Obviously under this plan the problem of executive salaries will be dealt with by drastic increases in income taxes.

Canada Answers Decisively in the Affirmative on Plebiscite Question. Quebec Only Province to Record a Majority Negative Vote.

By a two-to-one vote the people of Canada on Monday recorded a decisive vote for an all-out war effort with no political implications attached.

The plebiscite itself was unprecedented in that it did not seek an expression of opinion on a particular issue but the removal of a pledge concurred in by both major political parties at the last Federal election not to deal with the manpower question in a certain way. Over four million votes were tabulated late Tuesday night out of an estimated seven million eligible voters. The ballots of the various branches of the Armed Forces, together with those cast in outlying districts, are yet to be tabulated but it is not thought that their total will have any material effect upon the results already announced.

The following is a tabulation of the results by provinces:

| | Yes | No. |
|---------------|-----------|---------|
| P. E. Island | 21,921 | 4,256 |
| New Brunswick | 111,123 | 41,575 |
| N. Scotia | 116,810 | 31,600 |
| Quebec | 373,757 | 948,311 |
| Ontario | 1,191,620 | 228,705 |
| Manitoba | 216,812 | 51,978 |
| Saskatchewan | 177,000 | 63,000 |
| Alberta | 164,128 | 60,982 |

CANADIANS GIVE PRIME MINISTER AUTHORITY SOUGHT AND SHAPE HIS COURSE FOR HIM.

By a popular majority overwhelmingly larger than has ever been given to any government in the Dominion, the Canadian voters have united the government's hands and given the government not only the liberty it sought to take what steps it thought necessary for the conduct of the war, but gave, in addition, a definite and emphatic mandate. Canada wants the war to be carried on, whatever the sacrifices. It wants the war to be won.

Mr. Mackenzie King has said he will not consider the affirmative vote given on the plebiscite a vote of confidence in his government. He had better not. It was no vote of confidence. It was an order, not a compliment. It was more a reprimand than a pat on the back—an intimation that the people did not consider that the government had gone far enough in its prosecution of the war. There were 231 ballots cast made up as follows: Yes—188. No—42. Spoilt—1. There were 466 names on the voter's list and 23 made the necessary declaration making in all 489. Over one-half of the eligible voters failed to exercise their franchise. Those who voted in the negative at least had the courage of their convictions. The remainder who could have cast their votes but failed to do so stand condemned in the eyes of the world for a dereliction of duty at a time of grave national danger. Their neglect or refusal to exercise their franchise can either be construed as their being in favour of the present unsatisfactory conditions being continued or of playing politics and placing their party before their country.

The people of Canada having expressed their opinion upon the question: postulated in no uncertain manner it now clearly becomes the duty of the Dominion government to implement such expressed opinion by direct action and without undue delay.

FISHING TRAGEDY OCCURRED AT WHITEHORSE RAPIDS ON TUESDAY LAST.

We regret having to report a fishing tragedy on Tuesday when a member of the U. S. army fell into the turbulent waters of the Whitehorse Rapids. Every effort was made by those present at the time to avoid the tragedy but these were of no avail. At the time of going to press the body had not been recovered.

Miss Jessie McLean, of the local clerical staff of Canadian Pacific Airlines, left this week for the east on a short visit to her home.

of the war and that the people wished it, from now on, to extend itself to the limit.

The government asked the people of Canada a question. Patiently or resentfully—for many thought the question unnecessary—they answered it. What is Mr. King going to do about the answer? He has, up to the present, refused to say what action he will take. With a mandate so pointed and forceful, he can hardly hesitate any longer. His course has been decided for him—unless he chooses to defy the registered demand of two-thirds of the people of the country.—Vancouver Province.

HEROISM OF CREW OF CRIPPLED BOMBER UNDER TERRIFIC ATTACK EXTOLLED BY PRESIDENT.

In the course of the radio address Tuesday night President Roosevelt extolled the heroism of the crew of a U. S. bomber operating in the western Pacific. This particular bomber was one of five which left their base to attack Japanese transports landing troops in the Philippines. When half way to its destination this particular bomber went out of commission due to engine trouble and as a result lost sight of the other four. With its motors working again the bomber proceeded alone on its mission and arrived at its destination after the other four Flying Fortresses had dropped their bombs on their objectives and departed. This lone bomber was met by eighteen enemy Zero planes yet despite this mass attack it managed to drop its bombs on six Japanese transports lined up alongside the docks. On its homeward journey it was pursued for a distance of seventy-five miles. During the fight the bomber's radio operator was killed, the engineer's right hand was shot off, one gunner was crippled leaving only one man available to operate both side guns. Although wounded in one hand this gunner alternately manned both side guns. While this was going on one engine was shot out, one gas tank hit, the radio shot off and the oxygen system entirely destroyed. Out of eleven control cables all but four were shot away. The rear landing wheel was blown off and the two front wheels were both shot flat. With two engines gone and the plane practically out of control the American bomber returned to its base after dark and made an emergency landing. The pilot was Capt. Hewitt T. Wheelless of the U. S. army. He is from Menard, Texas, a small town with a population of 2375. This is only one of many typical examples of individual heroism and skill for which the pilot has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. States President Roosevelt in relating the story "As we here at home contemplate our own duties, our own responsibilities, let us think and think hard of the example which is being set for us by our fighting men."

CANADIAN RED CROSS

A Dominion-wide campaign is about to be launched for the purpose of raising nine million dollars with which to enable the Canadian Red Cross to continue its various branches of service in the cause of suffering humanity during the ensuing year. When the campaign opens we bespeak for it the generous support of everyone in this community.

The society is operating a gigantic undertaking with commendable success. Its various activities in this war-torn world touch the chords of the human heart with an impelling force. Its accomplishments are beyond praise.

Last year the Canadian Red Cross Society spent $6,778,000 on wartime activities and $1,135,303 on peacetime work amounting in all to almost $9,000,000. This was revealed at the annual meeting of the national Red Cross Central Council held in Ottawa last week. The Society will require an equal amount to carry on its vital work during the ensuing year and a campaign to raise $9,000,000 will be launched May 11th.

Food For Prisoners

Food parcels for British prisoners of war will be the largest service from a financial standpoint. Last year 647,790 parcels were shipped to German prison camps at a cost of $1,701,425. More than 1200.00 acknowledgment postcards have been received from prisoners. The British Red Cross has appealed to the Canadian Society to pack 80,000 parcels per week. Every effort also is being made to send food to prisoners in the Far East.

Tremendous Women's Work

The tremendous Red Cross work of the women of Canada last year is shown by the fact that 6,816,804 articles—hospital supplies, comforts for the forces and Women's Auxiliary services, clothing and necessities for air raid victims in England—have poured into Red Cross warehouses throughout Canada. The sum of $2,503,504 alone has been spent on materials, and it is estimated that the finished articles of clothing have three times the value of materials.

Disaster Relief Plans.

Red Cross disaster relief preparations have been extensive. Large supplies of bedding and first aid necessities are stored at strategic points. Eleven mobile surgical units, each unit carefully prepared to provide for an operating team to work continuously for 24 hours, have been set up at suitable points. The Canadian Red Cross Corps, which now has 3,734 enrolled in its four sections—transport, nursing auxiliary, office and food administration, is also keying its organization to fit into emergency service.

Red Cross Blood Banks.

Approximately 1,700 donations of blood a week for the Red Cross Blood Bank is reported from Blood Donor Clinics in six provinces. It is hoped to increase these to 3,000 per week.

The above is but a bird's eye view of the various phases of the society's activities and the magnitude of its operations. It does not—it cannot disclose the immense amount of time and patience involved by the hundreds of thousands of willing workers who are so nobly and unselfishly doing their utmost at all times and under varied circumstances in the great work which the Canadian Red Cross Society has obligated itself to carry on with the financial aid of the general public. The extent of their work is only circumscribed by the amount of the financial assistance they secure. Let's each do our part in this most worthy undertaking.

Gems of Thought

SELF-RESPECT

No more important duty can be urged upon those who are entering the great theatre of life than simple loyalty to their best convictions.—Chapin.

To have a respect for ourselves guides our morals; and to have a deference for others governs our manners.—Sterne.

What has an individual gained by losing his own self-respect? or what has he lost when, retaining his own, he loses the homage of fools, or the pretentious praise of hypocrites, false to themselves as to others?—Mary Baker Eddy.

He that respects himself is safe from others; He wears a coat of mail that none can pierce.

—Longfellow.

Self-respect is the noblest garment with which a man may clothe himself, the most elevating feeling with which the mind can be inspired.—Samuel Smiles.

It is necessary to the happiness of man that he be mentally faithful to himself.—Thomas Paine.

NO FALL FAIR IN VANCOUVER THIS YEAR.

Due to circumstances over which they have no control Canadian Pacific Exhibition Board announces that there will be no fair held in Vancouver this year. This puts the board on the spot as it is obligated to pay the City of Vancouver $23,000 out of revenue secured yearly toward repayment of money advanced for roofing the forum.

Canada's Population

LATEST CENSUS FIGURES

Population of Canada totalled 11,420,084 in 1941, final revised figures of the eighth census show. Segregated into sexes, there were 5,826,022 males and 5,594,062 females.

A curious sidelight is that in Quebec—second province in population—sexes are most evenly divided, men outnumbering women by a little more than 4000, or a small fraction of 1 per cent of the province's total population.

Detailed, revised figures are:

| Province | Population 1941 | Males | Females |
|-----------------------|-----------------|-----------|-----------|
| Canada | 11,420,084 | 5,826,022 | 5,594,062 |

BALLOT BOXES DROPPED FROM C. P. AIRLINE PLANE IN PEACE RIVER SETTLEMENTS

Last Saturday afternoon one of the Canadian Pacific Airline planes, piloted by Ted Field, superintendent of the Edmonton-Yukon Division, left Grand Prairie for Peace River where ten ballot boxes were picked up and later dropped from the plane at down river settlements including Keg River, Carcajou, Vermilion, Upper Vermilion and Red River. Authority for the flight was given from Ottawa. The ballot boxes were specially packed and the plane made a non-stop flight.

SIR DUDLEY POUND FIRST SEA LORD
ARRIVES IN CANADA.

OTTAWA, April 24.—Admiral of the Fleet Sir Dudley Pound, ranking officer of the Royal Navy, arrived by United States Navy plane from Washington today for conferences with officials of the Royal Canadian Navy.

The First Sea Lord, accompanied by Admiral Sir Charles Little, chief of the British Admiralty delegation in Washington, and Capt. W. W. Davis, flag officer, landed secretly at nearby Uplands Airport.

Vice-Admiral Percy W. Nelles, Chief of Naval Staff, and other Navy officials met the visitors at the airport. Sir Dudley spent most of the morning at a meeting of the Defense Council and later attended an official luncheon with Prime Minister Mackenzie King, and Hon. Angus MacDonald, Navy Minister.

During the afternoon Sir Dudley was to meet the Chiefs of Staff Committee headed by Admiral Nelles, Lieut.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, Chief of General Staff, and Air Marshal L. S. Bradner, Chief of Air Staff.

Late today he was to leave by plane for what the Naval Information Branch described only as "another Canadian destination."

Sir Dudley has been in Washington for several days.

LOYAL CITIZENS DO NOT HOARD!

Hoarders are people who buy and store away goods beyond their immediate needs.

They want to be in an unfair position over their neighbors.

Hoarders are traitors to their country and their fellow citizens, because by creating excessive and unnecessary demands for goods, they slow down the war effort.

There is no excuse for "panic buying" and hoarding. Everyone will have enough, if no one tries to get more than a fair share.

Hoarding must stop! Every unnecessary purchase makes it more difficult for Canada to do a full war job.

THERE'S A LAW AGAINST HOARDING

It is against the law to buy more than current needs.

Violation of the law is punishable by fines up to $5,000, and imprisonment for as long as two years.

AVOID ALL UNNECESSARY BUYING — AVOID WASTE MAKE EVERYTHING LAST THE LONGEST TIME POSSIBLE

POLARIS-TAKU MINE CLOSED "FOR DURATION."

The Polaris-Taku Mining Co., operating in the Atlin district approximately fifty miles from Juneau are closing down their mine for the duration of the war, due to inability to secure sufficient labour and supplies. The transportation situation up and down the coast is quite a problem now-adays due to U. S. government "priorities." It is unfortunate that the closing of the property comes at a time when the physical development of the mine has reached its most interesting and encouraging stage. A three hundred ton mill has been in operation at the site.
