COLOURFUL WEDDING CEREMONY SOLEMNIZED ST. PAUL'S, DAWSON.

A most colorful and picturesque wedding was recently solemnized at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral in Dawson when Solway Mary only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dines, Snr., pioneer residents of Dawson, became the bride of George G. Fyke, son of Mrs. and the late G. E. Fyke of Moosomin, Sask. The service was conducted by the Rt. Rev. W. A. Geddes, Bishop of Yukon, assisted by Rev. J. E. Aillsopp, rector of St. Paul's. There was a full choir in attendance and the church was decorated with evergreens and poinsettias tied with silver bows. The bride was given in marriage by her father and looked charming as she walked down the aisle on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march played upon the church organ. Mrs. J. O. Redmond, a girlhood friend of the bride, was matron of honour whilst flaxen-haired Barbara "Sugar" Carnsew, the 2½ year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Carnsew of Bear Creek, acted as flower girl and train bearer. Mr. A. G. Barrett attended the groom, whilst Phil Creamer and George Townsend acted as ushers. During the signing of register Mrs. C. Gloslie, popular lyric soprano of Bear Creek accompanied by Mrs. MacLeod White on the violin and Miss Joanne Nordale on the organ, sang "I Love You Truly." Following the wedding a public reception was held at the home of Mr. E. A. Troberg. The contracting parties are most popular members of the younger set in Dawson. The bride was born in the gold city and was the youngest organist at St. Paul's Church which office she filled with conspicuous success for 16 years. For several years past she has been on the secretarial staff of the Yukon Consolidated Gold Corporation Ltd. both in their Dawson and Bear Creek offices. The bridegroom has been on the engineering staff of the company for the past seven years, until last July when he left to enlist to take the officers' training course of the Royal Canadian Engineers at Chilliwack, B. C. The bridal couple left later for the coast, the groom having been granted only a short furlough.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES HELD SUNDAY AT FUNERAL OF LATE H. G. MACPHERSON

Funeral services for the late H. G. Macpherson were held in Christ Church on Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. L. G. Chappell, L. Th., followed by the impressive ritual of the Masonic Order, in which organization the deceased was a Past Master, and Chaplain at time of his passing. The organist was Sgt. Wm. Baker, and hymns chosen were "Unto the Hills Around", and "Breathe on me Breath of God." The Church was filled with friends, and there were a number of beautiful floral tributes some of which arrived by air, the above testifying to the esteem in which the deceased was regarded.

Slowly the funeral procession marched to the Evergreen Cemetery—a guard of honor on the last earthly journey of a revered Yukon pioneer. Interment was made with rites of Church and Masonic Order, the pallbearers being Messrs. J. Rose, D. W. Wilson, A. R. LePage, G. Y. Wilson, J. A. Barber and M. Warwick.

"I cannot say, and I will not say that he is dead—he is just away, with a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand, He has wandered into an unknown land, And left us dreaming how very fair It must be,

since he lingers there."

—James Whitcomb Riley.

MR. AND MRS. T. C. RICHARDS HOSTS AT 98 BALLROOM ON WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Last Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Richards were hosts to their invited guests at the 98 Ballroom. Some 250 invitations were issued to friends both in and out of town, with the result that the hall was filled to capacity and a more enjoyable gathering could not well be imagined. Excellent music was provided for the occasion by a four-piece orchestra. A dainty buffet supper was also provided. No stone was left unturned in order to make the occasion an outstanding social event of the season.

During the recess it was announced that the event marked the twenty-sixth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Richards' marriage. To this announcement the guests responded with acclaim after which both the host and hostess were called to the "mike" to make their responses. The dance continued well into the "wee sma' hours" of the morning.

Snow is falling steadily today but the temperature is still unusually high for this time of the year.

MR. T. KERRUISH PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY AT GENERAL HOSPITAL.

It came as a great shock to this community when it was learned that Mr. T. Kerruish had passed away suddenly yesterday afternoon at the Whitehorse General Hospital. He had been in failing health for some time past.

Born in the Isle of Man, Mr. Kerruish had spent all his life in the mining industry both in the United States and Canada and was a recognized authority on mining in the Yukon Territory. He followed the industry in various parts of the U. S. A. including Butte, Montana. He then came to Canada and thirty-five years or more ago was employed by the J. H. Conrad interests in the Carcross district. Coming later to Whitehorse he was foreman of both the Grafton and Pueblo mines here and later employed by the White interests in charge of the War Eagle and other adjacent mining properties. For several years he also prospected in the Klauane country as well as on the bars of the Hootalinqua river. Later he located at Lake Creek, in the Livingstone Creek district, where he mined some valuable claims. For the past few years he was in charge of construction of the airfield at Teslin Lake. His wide and varied experience in the mining industry he was always ready and willing to share with others and his passing is a distinct loss to mining in the Yukon.

He leaves to mourn his loss his widow who for years took an active part with him in his mining ventures. The Whitehorse Star joins with her hosts of friends, both near and far, in extending to her sincerest sympathy in her great bereavement.

Funeral services will be held Sunday next, January 30th, at 2 p. m. in the local Masonic Temple under the auspices of Whitehorse Lodge No. 46, A.F. & A.M. of which the deceased had been a member of many years' standing.

We received an announcement this morning from Honolulu, Hawaii, announcing the birth of a daughter Kathleen May, on January 12th, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kernahan. As the former Miss Harriet Malstrom, Mrs. Kernahan was widely known throughout the Territory as "The Nightingale of the North."

Mr. Antoine Cyr had the misfortune to have his garage burned to the ground in the early hours of this morning.

My share in the work of the world may be limited but the fact that it is work makes it precious.—Helen Keller.

ALLAN FRASER APPOINTED GENERAL AGENT IN DAWSON FOR B.Y.N. CO.

Mr. Allan H. Fraser has been receiving congratulations from his friends in Dawson and elsewhere on his promotion to the position of general agent for the British Yukon Navigation Co., Ltd. in Dawson, effective as from January 1, 1944. He succeeds Mr. C. J. Vifquain who has retired after many years of faithful service.

Allan has been an employee of the company for quite a number of years starting in its Atlin office in 1919, shortly after his return from service in the First World War. Afterwards he was purser on the river boats for a time and later was transferred to Mayo where he acted in the capacity of cashier. In 1928 he was appointed fuel agent for the company with headquarters in Whitehorse which position he held until 1936 when he was transferred to Dawson where he acted as assistant to Mr. Vifquain. His many friends in Whitehorse join with all others in the Territory in extending to Allan heartiest congratulations and best wishes for his future wellfare.

START MADE TO MAP NEW AIR ROUTE TO ALASKA FURTHER NORTH THAN PRESENT ROUTE.

A start has been made, it is learned in Ottawa, to develop a new air route to Alaska. It will follow the old Canadian air trail down the MacKenzie river valley and branch north-westwards from McPherson via Bell-Porcupine and Blue Fish-Porcupine in northern Yukon into Alaska. Survey parties of the R. C. A. F. and Transport Department are now in the field to locate suitable sites for landing fields to connect with the present chain of airports from Fort McMurray, Alberta to Norman Wells, N.W.T. This extension will involve the construction of airfields at Good Hope, Arctic Red River and McPherson, all familiar ports of call since 1929 to Canadian airmen using planes with skis or floats. Other fields will be chosen at points in the Yukon and Alaska. The new route, it is stated, will be alternative to the Edmonton-Whitehorse course and may be used when weather conditions further west are too bad for air traffic. Construction of airfields along the Mackenzie river have been undertaken by United States army personnel or their contractors and it may be that the new air route above mentioned will be a United States undertaking.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dennison are leaving on a vacation trip Outside.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

This is what a lot of people are expecting but are not going to get.
It is a condition which is not peculiar to any particular country but is more pronounced in some than in others.

Anticipation is as natural to all humans as is the sunshine but to become a realization it must be based on a solid foundation and not wholly upon wishful thinking.

The trouble with the world today is that too many people are beginning to assume the attitude that as soon as hostilities cease the strain which the war has imposed upon us all will be released and their responsibilities will be at an end.
Nothing is farther from the truth. It would probably be more accurate and in accordance with the known facts to assert that our post-war problems will be more difficult of solution than have been those associated with the prosecution of the war. Too many people nowadays take too much for granted. Their apathy toward public affairs, be they municipal, provincial or national, is truly deplorable. So, likewise is their persistent refusal to assume their fair share of responsibility or take an active interest in our public welfare. Compulsion appears to be the only power which moves them to action and this they resent.

If there be any (and there may be many) who are looking for "something for nothing" or are deluding themselves by thinking that life will be easier for them when this war is over, then we are afraid they will experience a very rude awakening. So also will be those who (to use their own phraseology) refuse to be "pushed around" or who, when called upon to conform with regulations necessary for the common weal, will "Cry Havoc"
with a lustiness worthy of a better cause.

It is worse than useless to blame others, be they governments or otherwise, for mistakes arising from our own lethargy.

All sorts of hypothetical schemes for the solution of post-war problems are being served to the public at the present time. Some deserve studying; others are too fantastic to warrant any serious consideration.

Whether or not any of them are purposely designed to cause confusion in the public mind is a matter for our readers to decide for themselves. Whatever the ultimate outcome may be let us never lose sight of the fact that in making our decisions upon the post-war problems as they arise, we are, in essence and reality, deciding the destiny of Canada for generations ahead.

A UNIFIED APPEAL

Next Sunday, in all the churches throughout Canada, regardless of denomination, an urgent appeal will be made for funds with which to provide relief to famine-stricken China and India.

As a Christian nation, blessed in abundance with the necessities of life as well as many of its luxuries, we should all unhesitatingly respond to this most worthy cause in a manner and to an extent commensurate with our ability so to do. Be our individual contributions large or small they will, in the aggregate, bring relief to thousands of people less fortunate than ourselves. Do not let this appeal go unheeded.

AN UNFETTERED START

It is a struggle for maintaining in the world that form and substance of government whose leading object is to elevate the conditions of men —to lift artificial weights from all shoulders; to clear the paths of laudable pursuits for all; to afford all an unfettered start and a fair chance in the race of life.—Abraham Lincoln.

EYES OF CHRISTENDOM

The eyes of Christendom are upon us, and our Honor as a People is become a matter of the Utmost Consequence to be taken care of. If we give up our Rights in this Contest, a Century to come will not restore to us the Opinion of the World; we shall be Stamped with the Character of Poltroons and Fools. Present Inconveniences are, therefore, to be Borne with Fortitude, and Better Times expected.—Benjamin Franklin.

KETCHIKAN. — Pete Gilmore, pioneer Alaskan, says "The Alaska Fishing News can tell Secretary Ickes that there is enough oil in northern Canada to last the United States for generations to come.

"I know, for I have traveled over 1,000 miles of natural gas and oil prospects, not so much in the Fort Norman district, where the present supply has been tapped for a pipe line to Whitehorse, but farther south and westward, bordering the Rockies."

In 1897 Mr. Gilmore and seven companions prospected through the great Canadian hinterland, and even made a trip to Greenland on a steamer which they built on the MacKenzie River. In Igloo No. 16, Pioneers of Alaska, Pioneer Hall in Ketchikan, is a picture of the seven men who made the trip.

Oil and Gas

Pete said on the trip they found natural gas, some of it burning, and the Indians said it had been burning longer than any of the tribe could remember. He said there were numerous oil seepages which could be set on fire by dropping a lighter match. He said from the Great Bear Lakes to the Great Slave Lake and southward and westward were active indications of oil and natural gas.

"Do you realize," he said, "that Canada, outside of Alaska, is as large as the United States and that most of it is still an undeveloped wilderness? In the Great Slave district are immense prairies, not muskegs, but real land with grass waist high. In the summer time the MacKenzie river can be navigated hundreds of miles to the Great Slave lakes. With a co-operative agreement between the United States and Canada, and the building of a system of highways, for mining, furs, farming and other resources, millions of people can find homes, with an overflow to Alaska for other millions."

HOW TO FORM A CREDIT UNION

AND START GROUP SAVING IN YOUR COMMUNITY

EVERY worker in your community should be encouraged to set aside a definite amount each pay day as savings. One of the most satisfactory ways to save has been found to be through a Credit Union.

WHAT IS A CREDIT UNION?

A Credit Union is an association of persons united by some common bond of interest, such as employment, business association, neighborhood, religion or nationality, joined together in a co-operative endeavour for the following purposes:

1. To encourage thrift by providing a safe, convenient and attractive medium for investment of the savings of its members.
2. To promote industry, eliminate usury and increase the purchasing power of its members by enabling them to borrow for productive or other beneficial purposes at a reasonable cost.
3. To encourage businesslike methods, self-government and co-operation among its members.

Credit Unions in British Columbia come under the "Credit Unions Act," operate by a set standard of rules and are subject to the scrutiny of the Government Inspector of Credit Unions.

HOW DO CREDIT UNION MEMBERS BENEFIT?

Any person who is a member of a Credit Union is entitled to:

- (a) Deposit savings;
- (b) Purchase shares in the Credit Union;
- (c) Vote and hold office;
- (d) Apply for loans;
- (e) Participate in profits;
- (f) Withdraw and obtain all moneys due.

WHO SHOULD FORM A CREDIT UNION?

Any officer or executive of a group of persons bound by a common interest, such as those suggested above, may form a Credit Union if he is convinced it would be a good thing for his group.

Those interested should get in touch with B. C. Credit Union League, 310 Dominion Bank Building, Vancouver, B. C., where advice and complete information are available.

E. K. DeBECK,
Supt. of Credit Unions

R. L. MAITLAND, K. C.

CORRESPONDENCE

A member of the U. S. 13th Engineers and a former contributor to these columns, writes us in part as follows

When Time magazine arrived in my mail last night, I was happy to see the write-up of your Whitehorse Star. I like to remember when you published some of my stories when we went to Whitehorse in April 1942, to build the highway. If you look back in your files, you will see the columns headed "Tent City" and initialed J. F. S. Those are mine, and I still carry those issues with me in my barracks bags.

We have pleasant memories of our stay in the Yukon Territory, of going to the little log church on Sundays, eating roast moose at the Whitehorse Inn, seeing the country out around beautiful Lake Kluane. During the past year, since we left Whitehorse, the Yukon and the highway has been one of our chief topics of conversation. In many ways we would rather be there than here.

We are somewhere in the Aleutians. The weather and the scenery is quite different from that in northern Canada. Since we have come here, I have been sending a few stories to Yank, the American army weekly, about our life here. Some of them have been printed

DAWSON

Mrs. G. I. Cameron, wife of Sergt. Cameron, R.C.M.P., of Fort Selkirk, was a recent visitor in the city arriving by C.P.A. plane.

Mr. C. White of the Northcraft curio shop in Whitehorse has been in town on a business trip this past week or so.

Struan Higgins, formerly of Paris on Dominion, is now in England with the Canadian army. He enlisted in Dawson.

James F. Carroll, a veteran of World War No. 1 and a resident of Dawson for many years, died suddenly last week from a heart attack whilst receiving his mail at the post office wicket. He was in his seventies.

Mr. J. A. Barber, local manager for the C.P.A. in Whitehorse, was a recent visitor to town on company business.

Mrs. Bert Bratsberg has left by C.P.A. plane on a hurried trip to Tacoma.

Constable J. J. Kasproicz, R.C.M.P., a former popular member of the police force here has been transferred to Kluane and states he likes his new location very much.

Mr. R. Hullan, superintendent of schools in the Territory, has been confined to his home for a few days suffering from a severe cold.

Mrs. Nilsen, the former Edith Balentine, is back in town again after visiting with his sister, Mrs. Cameron in Selkirk.

Mrs. George Hill has returned after spending the past four months Outside. During her absence her husband has been living on Hunker Creek.

Funeral services for the late Dave Swanson were held at the Wark Chapel last Sunday. He was an old-timer of the Forty-mile district.

A GRAND RECORD

There is not likely to be any wholesale layoffs in our shipyards because of the decision that no new keels for covettes and frigates will be laid down in the Dominion this year. Minesweepers are not affected and it is thought the yards have enough work to keep them going through 1944. Licking of the submarine menace is now being felt. Our wartime ship building programme gave work to nearly 50,000 men and women in 21 major yards and 65 smaller ones. In four years of war more than 500 naval vessels have been launched.

ALASKA FUR FIELD FOR 1942 EXCEEDS
TWO MILLION DOLLARS.

Furs shipped from Alaska in 1943 represented a value of a half million dollars over those of the preceding year according to the Alaska Game Commission. This has been due to a general increase in fur values and to the open season on marten.

The total was $2,048,942, as compared with $1,697,471 for 1942.

Beaver headed the list at $454,-380, followed by muskrats at $424,-704, and mink valued at $421,312. There were more Arctic white foxes than for several years, pelts valued at $134,000 having been shipped from Bearing Sea and Arctic Ocean trading posts.

In numbers, 2991,103 fur pelts were shipped from Alaska. Muskrat headed the list with 212,352, followed by mink 33,705, beaver 15,146, marten 8,152, red fox 4,916, white fox 44,500, weasel 3,392. There were 1,783 blue fox taken, 1,547 otter, 1,240 cross fox, and 1,112 squirrel. Other furs include black and glacier bear, polar bear, coyote, silver gray fox, hare, lynx, marmot, wolf and wolverine.

WHEN THE WAR WILL END

The following lines appeared in a Minneapolis paper before the end of the First World War and are as applicable today as they were then: Absolute knowledge I have none, But my aunt's washerwoman's sister's son

Heard a policeman on his beat say to a laborer on the street

That he had a letter just last week Written in the finest Greek

From a Chinese coolie in Timbuctoo Who said the Negroes in Cuba knew

Who got it straight from a circus clown

That a man in Klondike heard the news

From a gang of South American Jews

About somebody in Borneo Who heard a man who claimed to know

Of a swell society female fake Whose mother-in-law will undertake

To prove that her seventh husband's sister's niece

Had stated in a printed piece That she has a son who has a friend

Who knows when the war is going to end—Anon.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT
DEMOCRATS CHOICE
NATIONAL CONVENTION.

WASHINGTON—The Democratic national committee on Saturday last unanimously adopted a resolution "earnestly soliciting President Roosevelt to continue as our great world-humanitarian leader." The committee also approved a resolution asserting the belief that "Our Allies are praying with us" that the President be re-elected. Chicago was the unanimous choice for holding the national convention this year. Robert E. Hannegan, the newly-elected national chairman, was given authority to set the date. The President, by the way, celebrates his birthday on Sunday being born on January 30, 1882. (God bless him.)

The years write their records on human hearts as they do on trees, in inner circles of growth which no eye can see.

Northwest Service Command

Although the Alaska Highway is comparatively new, already controversy rages over portions of its brief history.

Brooks' Brook, only stream in the Yukon to be called a brook, is a case in point. Some writers have fixed on a Lieutenant Brooks as the person for whom the creek was named. But . . . "who he was, or where he came from, nobody remembers."

We prefer the story told by early engineer troops on "the road".

Eddie B. Brooks, Pvt., Engrs., was a member of a Negro regiment engaged in construction work on the highway. Brooks was no ordinary private; he appears to have been a sepa model of Pvt. Hargrove of "See Here, Private Hargrove" fame.

So it was no wonder to the other members of his company that Eddie B. Brooks was the first man to fall into the stream. From that time on, everybody called it "Brooks' Brook."

The American Red Cross Recreation Center conducts an ice-skating party every Tuesday night at Ice Lake. Soldiers, both Canadian and American, and gayly-dressed girls attend these parties regularly.

The truck—or carryall—ride to the lake is short but enjoyable. Cheerful songs and carefree laughter ring out over the rumble of the motors.

Earlier arrivals have already started the welcome warming fire. Skaters, some more enthusiastic than skilled, swarm over the ice, thoroughly enjoying themselves. Sandwiches and coffee are a welcome feature of the evening.

These skating parties are fast becoming the headline event on the Red Cross calendar.

There will be Jewish services at the Airbase Chapel (next to the Airbase Dispensary) each Friday evening at seven o'clock. All civilian and military personnel of Jewish faith are invited to attend.

SPELL OF THE YUKON

For five days last week the Haines militar highway was like a capricious woman—easy of approach, alluring, but variable and vicious. That is how two Headquarters officers found it. Don't talk to them about the "Spell of the Yukon," unless you are prepared for a riposte, with particulars . . . The officers are 1st Lt. Charles J. Langley, AGD, and 2nd Lt. Charles Norman, Inf., now with Public Relations. Lt. Langley was inspecting APO's, and at one point even held and carried the bag himself, while Lt. Norman's assignment was to gather material on the highway. As it turned out Lt. Langley is now also an authority . . . The two left Haines the morning of January 10 in a carryall. The road, emerging from the town, approached scenes of memorable natural beauty. On and over the body of water by which it sped were hundreds of birds: gulls, ducks, ptarmigans and eagles. Then came a sudden transition. Trees, water, birds, disappeared: in their place was snow—snow on the earth, snow in the air. By the 40th milepost there were banks 20 feet high. . . . The sudden Arctic night found them miles from a camp. They spent the night in one of the emergency Buter huts. Rations in the cupboard consisted of soda crackers, one can of sardines, one can of salmon, one can of diced carrots, one can of peaches, one can of coffee (?) and four cans of evaporated milk. It was decided that coffee, crackers and sardines, with peaches as dessert, offered the most interesting fare, and shortly after, supper was served. Water for coffee and other purposes was obtained by melting snow. . . . Some progress was made the next day but night again found the carryall unable to proceed. But by Wednesday morning only 12 miles of unplowed road stood between 76 and a swift ride to the Alcan and Whitehorse. All day, all night and all day again cats and snowplows from 76 and 88 attempted to effect a junction. A convoy of 6x6's and 6x4's from Haines now appeared and also waited. . . . At midnight Thursday a road engineer strode dramatically into 76 and announced: "The road is open!" Sleepers were awakened, motors turned over, and the convoy got under way, preceded by a wrecker whose weight could flatten out new snow drifts. . . .

Historic note: The convoy left H-76 at 0030 hours, Friday, 14 Jan. With the emergency created by the Japs in the Aleutians long over, this may prove to have been the last military convoy to negotiate the Haines highway. All credit to the men who built and maintained it.
