HIGHWAY REVISITED

The development of Yukon's highway systems has come a long way in the past four decades, but the original commitment and endurance exhibited by those who punched the first road through the wilderness expanses of northern British Columbia, Yukon and Alaska will not be forgotten.

Today, an integrated highways system links every Yukon community with the exception of Old Crow, Yukon's most northerly settlement. The photographs in this Annual Report offer a sampling of some of these highway routes.

CANADA

It is a pleasure to present you with the annual report of the Government of Yukon for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1982.

Unfortunately, with the difficult economic times being faced by Yukoners and other Canadians, this report is not being presented at the best of times in our economic history. However, lamentable as the current situation may be, Yukoners tend to be strong willed individuals who are prepared to take the necessary steps to weather the burdens brought about by this period of recession.

A major step toward decreasing operating costs was implemented by the Government of Yukon in September of this year with the ratification of an agreement with the employee's bargaining unit to introduce a nine day fortnight operating schedule. This move effectively froze salary levels for members of the government union, while senior management realized a 10 per cent reduction in their pay packages.

As you are now well aware, the Yukon government also had to defer several major capital projects as a result of a significant shortfall in anticipated revenues.

The virtual collapse of the mining industry in Yukon has had serious repercussions throughout the territory's economy. By the end of this calendar year, Yukon will not have one mine operating, an event which has not occurred since the historic Klondike Gold Rush in 1898.

While this government will continue to take whatever steps are necessary to revitalize the mining sector, serious attention is also being turned toward increased stimulation of the tourism industry which now ranks as number one in terms of economic importance.

A continued co-operation and understanding between all levels of government coupled with a committed effort to restimulate the economy is imperative. At this economic juncture, we must choose a common and collective road to recovery.

The Government of Yukon has every confidence that the Government of Canada will continue to embrace the spirit of cooperation which is so vital to our economic future.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL OFFICE

In December 1981, Mr. Herbert Law of Whitehorse was appointed as Administrator to act on behalf of the Commissioner, Mr. Douglas Bell, in his absence from Yukon.

As of March 31, 1982, the Executive Council comprised five members: the Hon. C.W. Pearson, President of Executive Council and Government Leader, representing the riding of Whitehorse Riverdale North; the Hon. H.D. Lang, Whitehorse Porter Creek East; the Hon. M.S. McCall, Klondike; the Hon. E.G. Lattin, Whitehorse North Centre; and the Hon. H.C. Tracey, Tatchun.

Following the June 7, 1982 general election in Yukon, the Executive Council included the following members: the Hon. C.W. Pearson, President of Executive Council and Government Leader, representing the riding of Riverdale North; the Hon. H.D. Lang, Whitehorse Porter Creek East; the Hon. H.C. Tracey, Tatchun; the Hon. B.A. Firth, Whitehorse Riverdale South; the Hon. C.L. Ashley, Klondike.

Major legislation brought forward during the year, and passed by the Yukon Legislative Assembly, included a new Wildlife Act, and a new Municipal Act and financing system.

On March 30, 1982, An Act to Amend the Interpretation Ordinance was passed and given assent. Among other changes, it renames all Yukon legislation as 'Acts', rather than the former title, 'Ordinance'. This and several companion Acts give legal recognition to Yukon's recent constitutional development.

Other legislation tabled by year end and awaiting passage, included the Seniors' Income Supplement Act and the Pioneer Utility Grant Act.

In the five year period 1976/77 to 1980/81, the student enrollment exclusive of Kindergarten students, decreased by 232 or approximately 4.9 percent. The proportion of rural to urban students has remained relatively constant.

EDUCATION

The 4,976 students attending kindergarten to grade 12 in the nine Whitehorse and 16 rural schools witnessed an expansion of native Indian language programs and the introduction of more Yukon related textbooks. Whitehorse students were able to enroll in an expanded French immersion program while a similar program was introduced for kindergarten students in Faro.

A new school in Pelly Crossing was started, the addition to the Carmacks school was in its final stages of completion and the new junior high school for Whitehorse was nearing completion. A December fire completely destroyed all educational facilities in Old Crow and resulted in a pre-fabricated school and teacherage being shipped and erected during the early spring. The new school is scheduled to open for the 1982 school year.

ADULT AND CONTINUING EDUCATION

Post secondary educational opportunities in Yukon also increased with the arrival of a mobile training unit, new college level courses offered by satellite in conjunction with the B.C. government's Knowledge Network and an increase in courses available from the University of British Columbia at Yukon Campus. At the vocational centre, 102 students were able to take tests to obtain a high school equivalency and 84 students registered for seven satellite transmitted programs and 67 evening courses were attended by 910 students in Whitehorse and several other communities.

Some 208 Yukon students received grants totalling $403,574 to help them attend post secondary institutions outside Yukon and an additional $241,393 was administered by the department on behalf of 139 students who received funding under the Canada Student Loans Program.

The apprenticeship and industrial training branch continued to administer the upgrading and training of apprentices and provided the means by which 96 tradesmen could receive their journeyman certificates with 62 of these tradesmen also qualifying for their interprovincial standard Red Seal.

RECREATION BRANCH

The recreation branch underwent a major review of programs during the fiscal year and initiated efforts to help bring about changes in the development of sports, arts and cultural facilities, and programs.

Months of efforts in helping over 1,000 Yukon athletes, coaches and officials to prepare for and attend the Arctic Winter Games in Fairbanks, Alaska during March, paid off with the Stuart M. Hodgson Award going to Yukon, for the second successive time, as the most sportsmanlike contingent at the games.

- and to identify, develop and manage territorial historic sites.

Under the Canada/Yukon Tourism Agreement, a building specific archaeological survey was conducted at Fort Selkirk, Lower Lebarge and Hootalinqua, and the structural stabilization of six buildings at these sites was initiated in co-operation with the Department of Renewable Resources.

General historic sites planning included the development of a comprehensive thematic framework for the undertaking and evaluation of Yukon sites, and the undertaking of general thematic research. A research assistant conducted artifact collection and recording at Fort Selkirk, Lower Lebarge and Hootalinqua.

The art gallery of the Whitehorse Public Library, conducted 12 art exhibitions, including five from galleries outside Yukon. Two local exhibitions were produced and distributed by the gallery to Destruction Bay, Haines Junction, Carmacks and Faro.

Ceramics workshops were given in Whitehorse, Watson Lake and Faro. Photography workshops were offered in Whitehorse and Haines Junction, and a portraiture workshop was held in Whitehorse. In addition, an art education course for teachers was held in November, in co-operation with the Yukon Teachers' Association.

The learning resources centre, which provides services to Yukon schools, circulated more than 19,000 items from September to March in its first year of operation with the new instructional materials catalogue produced jointly with the Department of Education. In addition, audio visual services loaned 12 per cent more films and video cassettes to schools, government agencies and members of the public this year than last. Of the 10,500 items requested, 90 per cent were filled from stock.

Public use of the reference service from the Whitehorse Public Library increased 57 per cent.

HIGHWAYS AND PUBLIC WORKS

HIGHWAYS AND TRANSPORTATION

The Yukon road network, consisting of 4,419 kilometres (km), was maintained and improved. An additional 236 km of highway received an application of bituminous surface treatment (BST), while 1,134 km were dust treated with calcium chloride.

On the Klondike Highway, reconstruction was carried out on a 32 km section and a 10 km project commenced during the previous year was completed. In addition, a 17 km section of the Skagway section of the Klondike Highway was reconstructed and completed with an application of BST. At Carcross, a walkway was added to the Nares Lake bridge.

PUBLIC WORKS

In Faro, an addition to the school which started in the previous year was completed. Following the destruction by fire of the Chief Zzeh Gittlit School in Old Crow along with a recently completed addition and the teacherage, the construction of a new school, gymnasium, teacherage and wildlife branch office commenced.

Work also proceeded on an addition to the Tantalus Elementary School in Carmacks, a new junior secondary school in Whitehorse and on the Mayo administration building. An addition to the Teslin School was constructed and major renovations were done to Christ the King Elementary School in Whitehorse.

WEIGH SCALES/FERRIES/AIRPORTS

Vehicle weigh stations were in operation at Whitehorse, Watson Lake and Haines Junction, while ferries continued operating at Dawson City and Ross River. A total of 10 Arctic 'B' and 'C' airports were maintained with Transport Canada funding and airport facilities were operated in Old Crow and Faro. In addition, 20 emergency airstrips were also maintained.

BUILDING MAINTENANCE AND MUNICIPAL ENGINEERING

The building maintenance section maintained all Yukon government buildings while the municipal engineering branch continued to provide engineering services to the government.

During 1981-82 the department was involved in a wide range of issues. The department represented the Yukon government on: the national energy supply allocation board; the federal/provincial/territorial consultative committee on government regulation; the Shakwak review committee; the senior policy committee on northern development; and the national environmental emergency team.

Co-ordination of Yukon government activities relative to the proposed Alaska Highway natural gas pipeline continued. The final drafts of the environmental and socio-economic terms and conditions governing construction of the project were reviewed and approved. Many of the plans required under the terms and conditions were also reviewed and a number of agreements on recovery of Yukon government expenditures, easements and rentals, and administration were negotiated.

The department continued to provide clearances for land use permits associated with pre-construction geotechnical work and assessed that work from environmental and socio-economic viewpoints. Work also continued on the development of natural gas distribution plans. Terms of reference for a detailed natural gas-propane study were prepared and a cost sharing agreement with the federal government for implementation of the study, was negotiated. Work on pipeline training requirements continued as did monitoring of the proponent's business opportunities program.

Involvement in Beaufort Sea developments resulted in the preparation of a policy statement entitled "Beaufort Development: The Yukon Perspective". In addition, a number of meetings were held with Beaufort proponents, and additional work included reviewing the environmental impact statement guidelines, participating on the federal Beaufort Sea task force and creating and chairing an internal Beaufort Sea committee.

INTER-GOVERNMENTAL RELATIONS

In April 1981, the Department of Intergovernmental Relations was formed through the amalgamation of the pipeline branch, land claims secretariat, and the directorate of intergovernmental affairs. The department established an Ottawa office and assumed responsibility for the emergency measures co-ordinator.

OTTAWA OFFICE

The associate deputy minister attached to the Ottawa office represented Yukon at a wide range of intergovernmental, parliamentary and senate committee meetings.

LAND CLAIMS SECRETARIAT

During the year, negotiations on the Yukon Indian land claims resulted in a total of twenty sub-agreements being reached, leading towards an Agreement-in-Principle.

Negotiations on the COPE claim remained stalled while the Yukon government continued to monitor the situation and provided interested parties with information on the claim and on Yukon's proposed northern Yukon resource management model.

The Yukon government was actively involved in interprovincial-territorial meetings on native affairs and was asked by the provinces to co-chair a federal/provincial/territorial meeting on native affairs.

EMERGENCY MEASURES CO-ORDINATOR

This office responded to emergencies at Old Crow and Carcross, and monitored potential flood problems at Rock Creek and Mayo.

JUSTICE

The legal services branch involves solicitors and the public administrator, as well as the land titles and legislation sections. Legal advice and services are provided to all government agencies; the branch also produces ordinances and peruses proposed regulations before they are signed into law.

The courts and administration branch administers justice throughout Yukon and provides a centralized administration which services the entire Department of Justice. Permanent courtrooms are located in Whitehorse, Watson Lake and Dawson City, while regular court circuits also convene in other communities.

Justices of the peace are located throughout Yukon and handle summary conviction offences.

There are several cost-sharing agreements with the federal government which assist the court worker program and the provision of compensation for victims of criminal injury.

Policing in Yukon is carried out by the R.C.M.P. under a cost-sharing agreement, which also provides for Indian special constables.

Probation services has offices in Whitehorse, Watson Lake, Mayo and at the WCC.

CLASSIFICATION AND EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

The introduction of a new management classification and pay plan resulted in the conversion of two out of four groups being completed. Development of standards for and conversion of positions to the education and legal groups is in progress. Seventy-five positions are now classified as Program Managers and 35 as Program Officers. Each group consists of seven levels with pay ranges of $28,377 to $36,912 at Level 7 and $47,725 to $61,908 at Level 1. Salary advances within each level are solely based on performance and vary from zero per cent to 10 per cent. Contract negotiations were commenced with the Public Service Alliance in February. Negotiations with the Yukon Teachers' Association are scheduled for May. Joint consultation meetings continued on a regular basis with the Yukon Territorial Public Service Association.

RENEWABLE RESOURCES

A major accomplishment during the year was the promulgation of the new Wildlife Act which came into effect in December, 1981.

Programs funded under the two major cost-shared agreements, the Yukon River Basin Study and the Subsidiary Agreement on Renewable Resource Development, continued under the administration of the department. The East Kluane Land Use Project was completed and new initiatives for a resource management plan for the Ibx Pass were announced. The Dempster Highway Management Plan is expected to be completed by September 1982. The documents Beaufort Development — The Yukon Perspective, and Land — A Yukon Resource were prepared.

RESOURCE PLANNING AND MANAGEMENT

During the year, the research and planning division concentrated on resource inventory projects in the Macmillan Pass and Yukon southern lakes areas.

The division also continued work on two major regional planning projects: the Dempster Highway corridor and east Kluane.

The division continues to provide departmental representation on a variety of land use committees and related boards and panels to ensure the environmental concerns relating to wildlife and parks are being met.

The biological laboratory examined 178 black bears, 85 grizzly bears, 202 caribou, 288 moose and 186 sheep biological submissions during the year.

The resource and management division continued work programs affecting big game, carnivores, fur bearers and birds of prey and waterfowl.

Under the General Development Subsidiary Agreement, five projects were planned and implementation monitored by the parks and outdoor recreation section.

During the year, two draft park proposals were completed — one for Fort Selkirk historical park and a second for Coal River springs nature preserve. A campground plan was completed for the Carcross area and a draft management plan for Chadburn Lake Park reserve was completed.

WILDLIFE AND PARKS SERVICES

Responsible for the enforcement of the Wildlife and Parks Act and the Pounds, Brands and Fur Export Act, the branch also initiated the development of new campground locations.

In addition to the normal campground development and rehabilitation programs, the assistance of the General Development Subsidiary Agreement allowed for an accelerated level of program delivery for several new campground projects, information kiosks and recreational road maintenance.

The Fort Selkirk historic site and Lower Leberge rehabilitation projects were continued and campground construction at Million Dollar Falls was completed, while construction of new conservation officer and warehouse facilities were started in Dawson and Mayo and the branch co-ordinated the hosting and chairing of the federal/provincial parks conference which was held in Whitehorse.

TOURISM AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

ECONOMIC RESEARCH AND PLANNING

The economy of Yukon for 1981/82 exhibited mixed performance. All indicators pointed to full recovery as 1981 began with record high employment, mineral exploration, placer mining activity, value of retail trade and value of total real estate transactions. This optimism lasted through the first three quarters of 1981. Towards the end of the year signs emerged suggesting a turnaround for the worst.

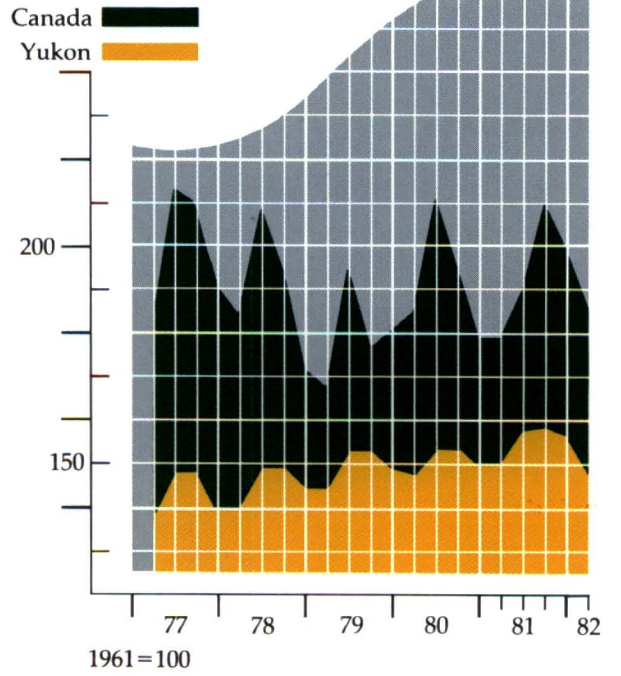

HIGHLIGHTS:

- non-renewable resource development policy;
- Yukon economic development strategy for the 80's;
- Macmillan Pass development task force co-ordination;
- financial agreement to assist White Pass;
- air traffic intervention on behalf of regional carriers;
- ongoing statistical surveys;
- publication of quarterly review and other working papers;
- study on the local impact of high mortgage rates;
- study on the economic potential of Faro;
- proposal for a preliminary socio-economic development plan for Macmillan Pass and Howard's Pass;
- preparation of position papers on the socio-economic aspects of Beaufort Sea oil and gas development.

The mining sector, Yukon's economic base, began to exhibit reductions in exploration expenditures, employment and production. As 1982 began, the imminent closure of the Whitehorse Copper Mine was announced, followed by layoffs at two other major mines.

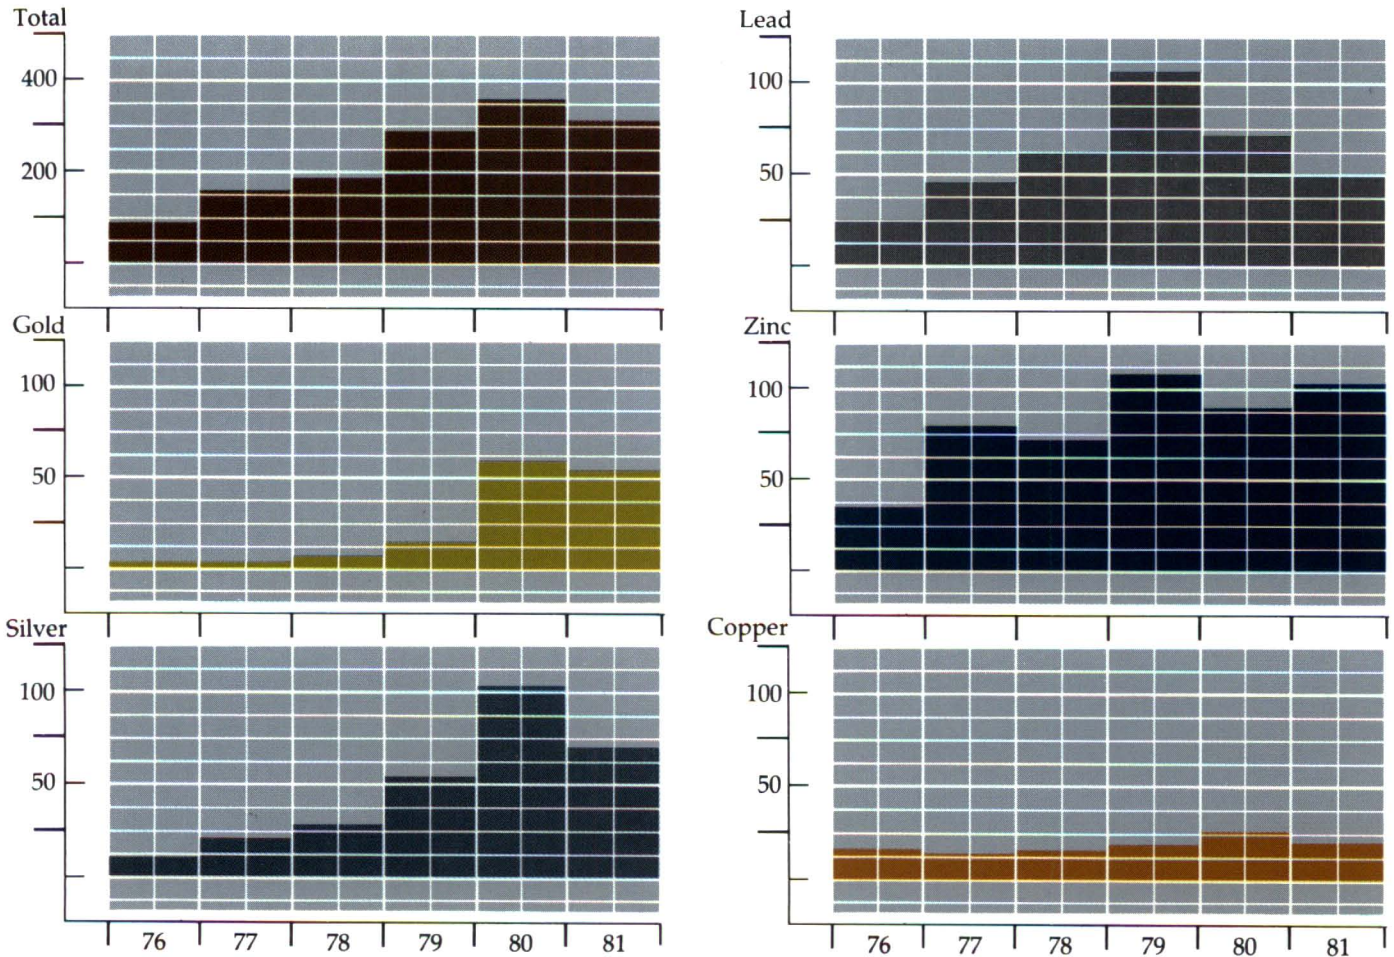

The poor economic health of Yukon's mining industry permeated the rest of the Yukon business community, severely affecting the service, transportation, retail and construction sectors.

TOURISM PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT

REVIEW:

The branch is responsible for the implementation of the Canada/Yukon Tourism Agreement (CYTA), a $6 million, three year tourism development program launched in February, 1980. Yukon contributes up to $900,000 to this joint program, with the balance provided by the federal government.

During 1981/82, $1.56 million was expended under the agreement, bringing total expenditures in the first two years to $3.34 million, or 55 per cent of the total funds authorized for the three year period.

Branch programs, other than those included under CYTA, include the placement of historic markers along the Alaska Highway to commemorate its 40th anniversary, and an agreement with the City of Whitehorse for a $170,000 Main Street beautification program, to be completed during 1982-83.

TOURISM MARKETING

A record number of visitors to Yukon in 1981 spent more money within the territory than ever before.

Upwards of 386,000 people entered Yukon during the calendar year 1981, an increase of 13 per cent over the previous year. Total visitor expenditures increased from $38 million in 1980 to an estimated $51 million.

Visitor origin remained essentially unchanged from 1980: 63 per cent of Yukon visitors came from the United States; 28 per cent from elsewhere in Canada; and nine per cent from overseas.

The joint marketing program with the State of Alaska continued to be the major thrust in the tourism marketing initiative.

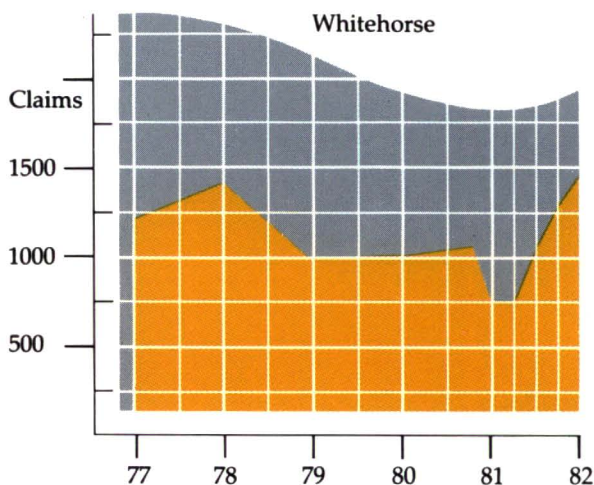

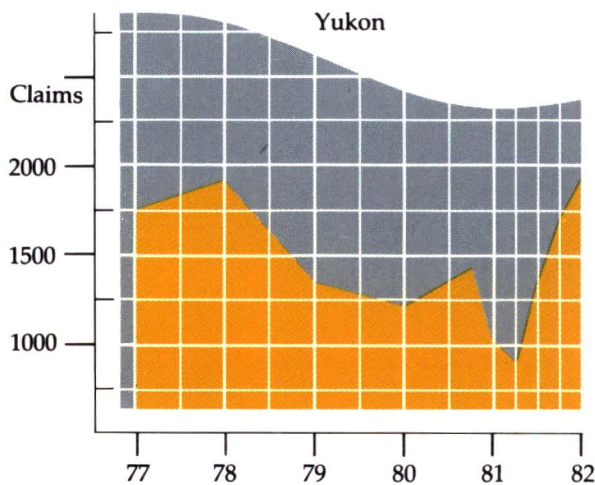

In 1981-82, tourism marketing distributed 200,000 travel guides to prospective visitors to Yukon, 10,000 travel agent's manuals and fulfilled over 56,000 requests for information.

The Yukon co-operative tourism marketing committee was formed in 1981 to vest more decision-making responsibility with Yukon's private sector. The committee, which is comprised of eight members of the Yukon Visitor's Association and two from Yukon government, decides major expenditures in the tourism marketing budget.

YUKON HOUSING CORPORATION

As the Yukon government's housing agency, the Yukon Housing Corporation's prime responsibility is to provide access to housing for persons and families unable to obtain adequate housing in the marketplace in Yukon.

The corporation administers rental/purchase, low rental, low rental family, senior citizens' housing and rent supplement programs, in conjunction with community housing associations and the Whitehorse Housing Authority.

Housing is made available and leased to Yukon government employees under the staff housing program.

The corporation's five year program to reduce energy consumption in staff and community housing is in its third year of operation. This fiscal year a total of 25 units were upgraded under the program. An additional 14 units in Dawson City were upgraded in conjunction with the federal government's off-oil program.

The design phase of a major construction project, a 24 suite apartment fourplex to be built in Faro, was completed this fiscal year. It is anticipated the project will commence in the spring of 1982.
